

The 2019 Nonprofit Power 100; 51 - 100

Recognizing the top 100 figures making a difference for the most vulnerable New Yorkers.

90. Cal Hedigan

CEO

Community Access

Cal Hedigan may still be new to her role as CEO of Community Access, but she is certainly familiar with the needs of the nonprofit, which provides housing and social services to New Yorkers with mental health concerns. She has held various executive positions at the nonprofit since 1999. Her upcoming agenda includes helping Community Access reach its goal to create at least 1,000 more units of affordable and supportive housing.
